

“Am I leading or managing?”

They’re both valuable! Do you know the difference? Are you a leader or a manager?

Managing day-to-day activities is one thing; while leading your team to success is another! This session will cover the key differences between the two and each participant will take a simple survey during the session, which will provide hearty discussion among the participants. The survey will provide an idea of your tendencies to lead, to manage, or both. At the end of the session, participants will understand their tendencies and how they can improve current performance to better lead and manage their teams for best results. You will have the opportunity to network and walk away with a new perspective about you, your skills and your talents. This topic is relevant for those at all levels that are in charge of others. New for 2010 - Two locations Rhode Island & Massachusetts!
